EverGen Infrastructure Announces Completion of the Fraser Valley Biogas Expansion and Delivery of First Gas

VANCOUVER, BRITISH COLUMBIA, December 21, 2023 – EverGen Infrastructure Corp. (“EverGen” or the “Company”) (TSXV: EVGN) (OTCQX: EVGIF), announces the successful completion of the Fraser Valley Biogas expansion and the delivery of first gas injection.

Having acquired the facility in 2021, EverGen has delivered Fraser Valley Biogas’s original intended design, positioning itself as a leader in Renewable Natural Gas (“RNG”) production. Fraser Valley Biogas is now poised to enter a ramp-up phase to reach its full design capacity, ultimately doubling output which is expected to produce 160,000 gigajoules of RNG annually.

“With the successful completion of the Fraser Valley Biogas expansion and the delivery of first gas, we continue to fulfill our commitment to advance renewable energy solutions in Canada” said Mischa Zajtmann, CEO of EverGen. “I am proud of what our team achieved in delivering this significant milestone for the Company.”

“The seamless integration of our facility’s original design, under EverGen’s management and operations team, showcases our capacity and capability to execute these RNG projects” said Jamie Betts, COO of EverGen. “This is a model that can be replicated across the platform as we continue to prioritize core project delivery.”

About Fraser Valley Biogas

Fraser Valley Biogas is British Columbia’s first RNG facility and has been digesting manure and off-farm organics since 2011. The RNG generated through this project is part of FortisBC’s program to supply renewable gas to homes, businesses and its customers. Fraser Valley Biogas also provides Abbotsford farms with renewable fertilizer via the digestate produced as part of the RNG process. EverGen acquired Fraser Valley Biogas in early-2021.
